RARE WWII FOOTAGE ON DVD

BATTLE OF THE PHILIPPINES

FORTRESS IN THE SEA, BATTLE FOR MANILA, WESTWARD IS BATAAN

Battle Of The Philippines

Over 90 min of rarely before seen interviews, documentaries, war footage and more from private libraries of veterans from WWII. This action packed and stunning DVD contains the following programs:

“Fortress in the Sea” - This chronicle follows General Mac Arthur's triumphant "return" to Corregidor, as his forces defeat the Japanese defenders. This production also details the experiences of an army nurse and sergeant as the liberation is seen through their eyes.

“Battle for Manila” - In fulfilling his promise “to return” General MacArthur brought a massive American force to the Philippines to liberate the people from over three years of Japanese occupation. The Japanese were dug in and waiting and before it was over the month-long battle for Manila would see the most bloody urban fighting of the Pacific War.

“Westward is Bataan” - As General MacArthur and the US Army in the Pacific closed in on the prize of liberating the Philippines, he had the Army pictorial service produce a series of films to get the troops ready for the battle to come. This is one such production and gives the viewer a rare glimpse into how the combat troops in the Pacific were prepared to an upcoming campaign.
