The National Combat History Archive is dedicated to the aggregation, preservation and dissemination of military combat and military related film, photographs and personal memoirs. The mission of the National Combat History Archive is to make this important history accessible to researchers, educators, students and historians so that the record of America's rich military heritage will be preserved for generations to come. Over 90 min of rare interviews, documentaries, war footage and more from private libraries of veterans from WWII! This action packed and stunning DVD contains the following programs: The Fortress of Courage - The film begins with President Franklin D. Roosevelt's "Day of Infamy" speech and amazing footage of the destruction of Pearl Harbor. But it is about the relationship, during WW II, between the Philippine people and the U.S. Military, especially General MacArthur. It presents the Philippine point of view. There are combat scenes from Tarawa, Kwajalein, Saipan, Palau, and the Red Beach landing on Leyte in 1944. The U.S. surrender of Manila, the Japanese surrender of the Philippine Islands and MacArthur's triumphant return are all here. Corregidor to Iwo & To the Gates of Japan - The U.S. Military found itself woefully unprepared to deal with Japanese aggression after the raid on Pearl Harbor and the rapid Japanese advance into the Pacific. Slowly and deliberately the tables begin to turn as the Navy launches its massive program of rebuilding. The United States begins the final phase of the conquest of Japan. After knocking the Japanese out of the Philippines, the U.S. Navy and Marines sail to Iwo Jima and one of the bloodiest battles of WWII. WWII Advances in Technology - This short film reveals some of the many technology advancements that were made during WWII.
